

This is Temporary

I let my toothbrush collect dust
I tell myself this is temporary
Later, I will move into a nice apartment
And I will treat it with care, keep everything clean

I let my windowsills grow moldy
I tell myself this is temporary
A penthouse in the city, windows toward the skyline
It will be mine forever

I let my things be used by other people
I tell myself this is temporary
Later, I will have control
Everything will be the way I like it

I let you keep my happiness
I tell myself this is temporary

You offer me your indulgences
This is temporary
